

9. Las Carolinas. Parque Lineal.

The Benimàmet Parque Lineal is a green area inaugurated in 2018 which is the result of the underground burying of the tram tracks as they passed through the town centre in 2011. The new metrovalencia stations are integrated, and the old las Carolinas train station, which has been restored, is used as a cafeteria. It is decorated with a mural by Alexis Rafael Guevara that recalls the tramway's passage through the station before it was buried underground.

The Parque Lineal comprises a 1200-metre linear promenade that runs from west to east. It has a landscaped area of more than 30,000m², a cycle lane, a children's play area, a petanque court, a picnic area, an amphitheatre, a dog socialisation area and several petanque courts.

On the route from Las Carolinas there are various murals by local residents such as Miguel Ángel López Monserrat (design) and painters, J. L. Pérez Ballester, V. Calaforra Lara and M. Folgado Martínez or artists-painters-urban residents of Benimàmet José David Moya Saiz -AYOM32- and Jesús Moya Saiz, with themes related to the town.

The Parque Lineal, by las Carolinas, observes the recovery of three cave dwellings.
